ROCK CO. FARMERS HOLD $3,000,000 OF TOBACCO WITH NO MARKET

MURDER TRIAL, TO OPEN TUESDAY, IS FIRST IN 2 YEARS

VERMEERSEK TO MAKE STRONG FIGHT TO ESCAPE LIFE TERM.

INTEREST IS HIGH

All Rock County Awaits Outcome of Sensational Case—Attorneys Ready.

Next Tuesday afternoon Henry Vermeersek, 38, South Beloit, will stand before Judge George Grimm in the Rock County circuit court while a jury is being picked to try him on a first degree murder charge, the shooting and slaying of his neighbor Christiana Brickson, 55, on the night of November 11—Armed—slaying—within a few feet of her home near the Country Club. It will be the first murder trial here in more than two years.

Besides the defendant will be J. G. McWilliams, his counsel. On the other side of the table, prosecuting the case will be Thomas S. Nolan and District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie. Once 12 good and true men and women are accepted for the jury, the trial will be a legal battle of an all-alibi against circumstantial evidence. The trial is expected to last three or four days, depending on how long it takes to pick the jury. There are 52 names on the venire, including five women. It is doubtful if the women will be even asked to serve because of the close guard kept on a murder jury and the time the jury is likely to be closeted for a verdict.

Alibi is defense. The bulk of evidence will be centered on the claim of the defense that Vermeersek was in South Beloit all day Friday, Nov. 11, and was asleep in a boarding house during the time the murder was committed. There will be witnesses who will swear Vermeersek could not have been in Janesville Friday night, between 8 and 10 o'clock when the woman was shot down.

There will be evidence that Vermeersek had a .32 calibre revolver, had cartridges in a belt and he often carried the gun. It was the same revolver that was used to shoot the woman twice as she walked toward her home and again the third time as she lay bleeding and dying on the frozen ground.

There will be testimony that Vermeersek was 10 miles away when this happened. Unless new developments have been uncovered since the hearing before Judge H. L. Maxwell, the case will have pretty much exhausted its testimony. Attorneys prosecuting the case must break down a 6 alibi of

10 Companies Defendants in Morgan Action

Madison.—Conspiracy to prevent and restrain competition from determining the supply and price of manufactured goods was the charge made by Attorney General William J. Morgan in an action brought against 10 Milwaukee mill work companies Saturday. The suit is based on the last legislature, and is one of a series started by the attorney general.

Companies named in the complaint filed in the circuit court of Milwaukee are the Grobman Manufacturing company, the Badger Sash and Door company, Gruhl Sash and Door company, William H. Schmidt and Sons company, Hignett Manufacturing company, Superior Woodwork company, A. F. Rockwell Sash and Door company, Rockwell Manufacturing company, the West Side Manufacturing company and the Woodwork Manufacturing company.

C. F. Clifford, special assistant attorney general, in charge of anti-trust actions, said that, if successful in the Milwaukee prosecution, others would be started against mill work combinations which are said to exist throughout the state. Suits are for $5,000 damages and such other relief as the state may be entitled to in the premises.

U. S., BRITAIN SEEK RULES TO RENDER U-BOAT USELESS

TAKE NEW TACK IN COUNTERING PLAN OF FRENCH

BARGAINING SEEN

Paris Peered at Being Left Out of Inner Circle in Early Parley.

Washington.—The British and American delegations are determined to circumvent the French position on the building of submarines by offering such a set of rules for submarines in time of war as to render them useless as a weapon of offensive power. The French have protested so violently against the German methods of submarine warfare and their record on the subject is so recent that the Americans and British have now taken another tack in the conference and are endeavoring to see whether the French, who abhorred the submarine when the Germans used it, will defend it as a humane and legitimate instrument of warfare.

The rules of warfare being drawn are such as to make it impossible for a submarine to attack a merchant ship for obviously the undersea craft can't take care of the lives of crew or passengers and one of the new rules provides that the merchant ship can't be sunk unless that is done. Of course the submarine would still be useful in naval battle against an invasion by a fleet but then destroyers usually accompany the large ships and would destroy them, meaning sure death to a submarine.

SHOOTS WIFE AND SELF DURING ROW

Officials Believe Husband Insane; Woman Is Near Death.

Elkhorn.—Mrs. Edward Wise, 40, non-junction, is believed near death and her husband is seriously wounded as the result of a quarrel in their home Friday night.

Police declare Wise shot his wife twice in the head, then turned the revolver on himself, sending a bullet into his own head. Mrs. Wise, who is not expected to recover, is in a Lake Geneva hospital, while Wise was brought to a hospital here. Wise will be examined for his sanity if he recovers.

The quarrel is said to have been the result of jealousy.

$1,500,000 Mail Theft Uncovered

New York.—A mail theft of $1,500,000 in bonds on July 18, 1921, became known Saturday with the arrest of Mrs. Alice Atwell, divorced wife of the former publisher, Sam Gold and Harry Cohen, by postoffice inspectors and members of the police bomb squad.

The bonds, with a face value of $1,477,000, were stolen somewhere en route from the Federal Reserve bank, New York, to the treasury department in Washington.

Some had been cancelled by perforation and others were stamped "PAID" but the stamp was removed by chemical and many of them passed, inspectors said.

The charge against Mrs. Atwell, who said she divorced her husband in California five years ago, was attempting to pass altered government bonds. The two men were charged with conspiracy.

Ahmedabad, British India.—A plea for an Indian republic to be called the "United States of India," to be declared January 1, and to be attained by Gandhi's warfare, if necessary, was the principal feature of the address of President Hazrat Mohani, of the all-India muslim league in opening the annual session of the league here Saturday.

Mohani invited Mohandas Gandhi, leader of the non-cooperation movement, who was present to form a parallel government with its own parliament and armies. Mohani admitted that such a government could not be maintained by peaceful means.

Revival of Market Will Mean Return of Prosperity Here

Rock county farmers have $3,260,000 tied up in tobacco—not netting them a cent in cash. Of this total the sum of $1,260,000 represents the 1921 crop, not a pound of which has been sold.

The tobacco market is the most acute, fearful problem among Rock county farmers at present for no one can even make a good guess what the future is going to bring or whether the new crop will be marketed. It is a grave question whether the growers are going to sell tobacco at prices that will pay them production costs.

The Wisconsin tobacco market is flooded with surplus stock, not alone with the growers but also to some extent, with the dealers. And it is the grower who stands the poorest chance to "get out from under."

LA FOLLETTE GIVEN SHARP REBUKE BY FARM BUREAU HEAD

J. R. HOWARD BRANDS CONSPIRACY CHARGE AS FALSE

SECRECY DENIED

Meetings All Above Board and in Harmony With Federation Plans.

Madison.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, Dec. 27, issued a formal statement in which he branded "as a conspiracy to betray not only the farmers, but the consuming and producing millions of the nation" a conference held in Washington, Dec. 9 and attended by J. R. Howard, Gray Silver, H. C. Bradburn, Ralph Snyder and G. B. Bradburn.

The American Farm Bureau federation has no secrets. It maintains an open-door policy and guards zealously its reputation for truth and honesty. Wisconsin Senator La Follette's charges were brought to the attention of President J. R. Howard of the American Farm Bureau federation, who wrote an open letter to the senator as follows:

"Hon. R. M. La Follette, U. S. Senate, Washington, D. C. "Dear Senator: "Press reports indicate that you have made statements to the effect that the Grange and American Farm Bureau federation have been in secret conference with the railroads and other interests to the detriment of the interests of the American public and American agriculture.

I want to assure you that no secret conference has been held, nor any working agreements reached which are not entirely in harmony with the adopted resolutions of the American Farm Bureau federation.

My sole personal interest is in an Iowa farm, but no one knows better than I the necessity of adequate transportation and the oppressive and exorbitant freight rates.

"The American Farm Bureau federation was the only farmers' organization to protest before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"To make a profit, the growers must get 15 cents a bushel as an average price, making the aggregate value of 60 cents."

BLAINE FLAYS ACT IN 1922 GREETING

New Year Wishes Include One for Reorganization of Railroads.

(By Associated Press.)
Madison—The Esch-Cummins transportation act is flayed by Gov. John F. Blaine in a New Year message to the people of Wisconsin, in which he expresses the belief that "an entire reorganization of our transportation systems under a just law will be necessary before there is a general return to economic contentment and happiness."

"With all our progress," he declares, "the darkness of adversity is passing and with its passing the light of better times will break."

"His message continues as follows: "Wisconsin in common with other parts of this country and of the world, has paid the toll of congressional and economic folly. In some degree we are conscious of the fact that due to the wisdom of our own people, we have not suffered to the extent of some of the other states."

"Over Wisconsin Protest."
"However, our farmers, industrial and railroad workers, manufacturers, and merchants have been made to feel the evil effects of the transportation act, fostered upon us through the Esch-Cummins law. But fortunately, the people of the entire country are awakening to its iniquities."

"As at last is giving signs that portend reformation, if not absolute repeal of this iniquitous statute that, like the old man of the sea, has been resting on the people, making profitable interchange impossible."
"Wisconsin was the first state to realize the iniquities of this measure. Its congressional voice, by an overwhelming majority, registered its protest at the time of its enactment."

"Wisconsin, ever watchful of the people, took the lead and we are now hopeful that a majority in congress will take a stand to relieve the country from the suffering effects of that law."

"With the return of the possibility of profitable interchange, under a transportation law that will not hamper and watered stock, the farmers may again market their products at a fair return, the purchasing power of agriculture will be increased, manufacturing will be stimulated and men who are willing to work but are forced into idleness will find employment. I feel an entire reorganization of our transportation systems under a just law will be the only way there is a general return to economic contentment and happiness."

"Success in Future."
"The return of better times will be due to the awakening of the people's representatives to the duties of political obligation for those who fail to respond to rightful demands. When such representatives respond to the people's will, then we have popular government; but when the representatives respond to an invisible power with its hands on government, then the pretenses of democracy are shams."

"It is the will of the people may be defeated again and again, but we can see the future pregnant with the possibilities for the success that gives the people strength to struggle on until the last wrong has been righted."

"The general movement for better things will carry on during the year we are entering. We will progress in the work of wiping out the undemocratic and repressive legislation that so quickly smothered representative government, and will again achieve that state of free, open, and fearless discussion of all matters pertaining to our political and economic life."

"Uplifting Democracy."
"In a word, we are in a measure killing autocratic rule; we are upbuilding democracy."

"Wisconsin has pointed the way in righting economic wrongs and in holding high the torch of liberty and justice, and for that we are proud."

"With faith and confidence in the future, we can look forward to the new year, when Wisconsin will not only uphold and preserve her best traditions, but will go forward earnestly and constructively in accomplishing those things necessary to greater happiness and prosperity."

GERMANS UNITE TO BUILD GIANT MIDEUROPE CANAL

Munich, Germany.—A corporation with an initial capital of 1,200,000,000 marks (around $10,000,000) has been organized for the construction of a canal connecting the Rhine, the Main, and the Danube—the biggest waterway project ever undertaken in Europe. It will require 20 years for completion.

The executive board consists of 61 members, 11 of whom will represent the central government and eight the Bavarian government. Twenty-two shares are to be taken by industrial, shipping and banking circles in Germany.

Part of the canal, work on which will begin on Jan. 1, will be built across a 1,200 foot elevation, requiring 60 blocks over a stretch of 450 miles. Forty power plants are to be erected, designed to furnish 2,500 million kilowatts of power per hour, at an estimated saving of 2,000,000 marks worth of coal every year.

The total length of the waterway to be created will be 2,100 miles and will be able to accommodate 1,500 ton ships.

Promise Sharp Reforms in Massage Parlors of Chicago, After Inquiry

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago—A radical reform in Chicago's massage parlors where three businessmen were massaged by female attendants, was promised Saturday by Assistant State's Attorney Milton D. Smith, after having additional reports from investigators.

Among those brought in for questioning were Muidan Johnson, who conducts an establishment in the city and the assistant, Lydia Berglund and Madame Hilda Eshman, who also had a downtown place and her assistant, Pauline Anderson.

"I am very indignant over the 'insult' to their profession. They readily admitted their business was the massaging of men, which, they said, was all right, but denied that any improprieties took place in the establishments."

"Place 'Strictly Decent'"
Mrs. Johnson confided the secrets of her business to Assistant State's Attorney Smith, the code of morals in vogue and the reasons men who needed massaging chose girls in preference to men.

"We run a strictly decent place," she said. "Most of the other places should be put out of business. We are strictly decent."

U. S., BRITAIN SEEK RULES TO RENDER U-BOAT USELESS

ington against Cannes, which is only another way of saying that when Prime Minister Lloyd George meets Premier Briand at the supreme council at Cannes some bargaining may take place which will modify the French attitude at Washington.

So far as the Washington government is concerned it is plainly losing faith in and patience with the French. The talk is that the French have completely misconceived the spirit of the Washington conference. Instead of looking in upon either of us as we are giving up naval strength, the French have attempted to bargain all along the line. In the words of a man who ought to know, the French attitude is described as one of "offended vanity from the start."

The attributes of French pique to an accumulation of minor incidents which would sound ludicrous if the details were published. He represented Premier Briand as exasperated in the first days of the conference because of some mechanical defect in the seating of the French delegation at the plenary sessions. Another incident was the fact that the French were not invited to participate as observers in the conversations between China and Japan and over Shanghai.

Rumor has it that the Japanese didn't want the French because of the possibility of obstruction. Still another episode in which French displeasure was incurred arose out of the conversations preceding the negotiation of the four-power pact. While France was included as a signatory, her representatives didn't get in on the ground floor in the shaping of the project.

What France could possibly have wanted except to change the character of the pact itself is not explained but the French are said to have aroused just the same. Admiral de Bop, French naval expert, wasn't taken in on the first conversations about capital ships as the parity was between the British, Americans and Japanese in order to get an agreement among the first three powers. That is still another cause of French discontent. There are many incidents like these which cumulatively have produced the French policy of obstruction.

Lost One Opportunity.
Looking retrospectively, Americans are wondering whether it was such a wise thing after all to abandon the topic of land armaments when Premier Briand made his speech. There are those who believe the French would have "played ball" as the British are doing if they had been kept on the anxious seat concerning land armaments. The dispatches inspired by the French foreign office indicate that the French policy on submarines is not necessarily inflexible and that if a world-wide conference were called they would give up their ideas of extensive submarine tonnage. From this it is inferred here that the French are merely seeking a means of postponing the settlement of the question until they obtain from other European powers certain pledges which affect them much more vitally than the future size of a navy.

Why French Irritation.
The French are attempting to prevent a German-British entente. They are irritated over British policy in the Near East. Conversely the British are displeased over the separate peace made by the French with the Turks. In other words, the trouble is European and not American. Besides, the head of the French delegation here, M. Sarraut, is the brother-in-law of the owner of one of the most influential newspapers in France which is said to control a large bloc of deputies.

This means that Premier Briand cannot easily override M. Sarraut's views and M. Sarraut is still chafing over the fact that Mr. Hughes called Premier Briand direct on the capital ship matter without taking it up with M. Sarraut as head of the delegation here.

Not to Be Thought of.
The answer from American sources is that the French proposal made here was unthinkable and America couldn't believe the plan was supported by the French government at home and took a course as is permitted with any government, namely, dealing with the head of another state, when an emergency arises. Franco-American discord is the cause of it all.

Handshaking friends are naturally of a grasping nature.

Dance at Club.—The largest and most beautiful of the large number of social affairs that have been given and being given in Janesville this holiday season, took place at the Samson club Friday night when Miss Margaret Birmingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Barnes, North Jackson street, aided 60 couples at a dancing party. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and Miss Barnes, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Muggleton, Court street, received the guests in the large hall and in the living room, while dancing took place in the dancing hall. The five-piece Oscar Hoel orchestra furnished the music.

At 10 o'clock a lunch was served in the dining hall. Mrs. Barnes was assisted in pouring by Mrs. Muggleton, while Misses Nancy and Barbara Muggleton presided at the punch bowl.

The club-house was beautifully decorated. Christmas wreaths and bells were used, while red and green streamers made the dancing room attractive. Boxes of polonettes with pines and cones furthered the Christmas color scheme, while a large grate-fire in the living room gave a cheerful glow to the floor lamps.

Dancing was enjoyed until one o'clock.

Many of the guests present were Janesville young people who are here to spend the holidays from their schools, some near here and some in the East. Miss Barnes is at home from the University of Wisconsin for the vacation.

Those present were the following from away: Misses Mary Blanchard, Fort Atkinson; Marlene Reynolds, Milwaukee; Emily Houston, Madison; Anna May Houston, Chicago; Elizabeth Shattuck, Minneapolis; and Jean McNamara, Omaha, Neb.; and Malcolm Walker, Chicago; and Robert Leonard, Milwaukee.

To Formal Party.—Miss Elizabeth Sayles, 622 Court street, went to Chicago Saturday morning to attend a private formal dancing party Saturday night.

Firemen's Dance.—Because of New Year's Eve falling on Saturday night, the annual Firemen's Ball was given at the Armory Friday night. It was the thirty-second annual affair and was largely attended, the hall being crowded all the time from 9 until dancing stopped at 3 a. m. Hatch's six-piece orchestra furnished the music.

Bazaar for Team.—A bazaar will be held at the First Lutheran church parlors at 8 p. m. Monday night in honor of the men of the First Lutheran basketball team.

A tax on sporting goods, of all kinds, of equipment for the most popular American games, which has handicapped the youth of the nation, will be removed. The tax on both these has been 10 per cent of the cost.

MAKE THIS FIGHT ON CARE OF POOR

County Board Split Over Legislation on Geographical Boundaries.

Efforts of the past few weeks and since the meeting of the county board have emphasized the determination of a bloc of supervisors to make a fight on the distribution of relief for the poor. The same bloc was apparent on the road program and in the voting on the equalization which ended in Janesville appealing to the state tax commission for a redetermination of the assessment.

In the report of Superintendent Archie Cullen are figures to show that poor committed from Janesville had 2,393 weeks of board as compared to 484 from Beloit. The total number of weeks for Rock county is figured at 5,327 and six days.

The question is raised why Janesville should be the beneficiary of a county institution designed to care for the entire county in equal proportion. The money for the support of the poor home is from Rock county as a unit, the lump sum being raised in the budget with all townships contributing. There are certain townships who have not nor have had people from their districts at the county farm and yet pay a proportionate share of the costs.

Size of District.

In the addition there are two districts with two poor relief commissioners, Asa Anderson in the Janesville or northern district and George Segemiller in 1922. An inspection of County Treasurer's account books shows that Poormaster Segemiller spent $3,000 in the Beloit district during the last year. The amounts drawn by Poormaster Anderson for the Janesville district total $3,800 and he reports the total amount used for the Janesville district a balance of $20 amounts to $3,640. The Janesville district contains 15 out of the 20 townships in the county, three out of the four villages and three out of the four cities in Rock county.

People Committed.

Since last March there has not been a resident of Rock county taken to the county poor farm unless a commitment was obtained from a court. No person can be admitted unless a magistrate is satisfied that they are entitled to the county aid. It is not a case of "shipping" poor to the county farm, but rather of having them committed, a right both poormasters have for any district.

The difference between the amount spent in the one-third larger Janesville district and that used in the Beloit district for relief work is more than $10,000 for there will be a deficit in the southern section and a balance in the northern section.

It is somewhat of a question whether it is more economical for the county to use the poor farm designed to help unfortunate people or spend cash from the district for people dependent on industrial work who have not had jobs.

The total amount appropriated from the budget for 1922 for county farm purposes amounted to $20,000, and $4,000 more than was used for poor relief work mainly in the city of Beloit for Clinton is the only other village in the county having people dependent on the county funds.

Problem for Beloit.

The county farm reports shows 4,017 weeks of board charged against Janesville. It is doubtful if any more people actually resident of Janesville were committed from the city than there were from Beloit in 1921 for the reason that the majority of poor house people have been given home care, even as long as 18 and 20 years at the county farm. Many of them were from other cities and villages who applied for aid in Janesville and were listed as being from the city, the county seat.

The report shows that 77 people were in the poor house July 1, 1921 and also the report shows approximately 4,017 weeks of board for inmates from this city. Dividing the total number weeks of board by the number of weeks in a year the report through some error shows all from Janesville—mathematical problem for Beloit problems to consider.

Relief for Beloit.

"I do not know what the figures show but there has not been a person sent to the poor farm unless they were committed," stated Asa Anderson on Saturday. "I do know there are a number of people sent there from districts outside of Janesville charged against the city. There was nothing ever thought about it for it seems to me poor people is not a good subject to start a fight about. I would hate to think anybody wants to deny relief to the deserving poor no matter from which city they came from."

The following is quoted from the Beloit newspaper indicating the lack of thorough study of the situation and narrow minded prejudice:

"Analysis of the poor situation affords remarks to Beloit supervisors as it prevents reliance from the Janesville county supporting Beloit. The village of the county board amount with her poor almost all securing free board at the county farm and their expense covered by the county of that institution it is no wonder that Beloit's poor relief is more costly in cash, the supervisors declare."

Footville

Footville—Misses Alice Finnane, Gladys and Irene Mulachy spent Wednesday in Rockford. Mrs. Henry Harnack is suffering from a severe attack of neuritis—Miss Willing, Waukesha, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willing, west of the village—Owen Trevorrow, Janesville, is spending the week with his aunt Mrs. Daley Ringen—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scholtz are in Broadhead at the present time—Miss Hazel Atkinson, Waukesha, is enjoying a week's vacation with her friend, Miss John Webber and family—Allan Silverthorn came from Beloit Friday and spent the night at the G. M. Gooch home, returning Saturday—Mrs. Daley Ringen and Mrs. E. J. Sator spent Friday in Janesville—George Hatch and family, Waukesha, are spending the week-end with his brother, John Webber and family—Mrs. Leslie Day, who has been seriously ill at the home of her mother, has recovered sufficient to go to her home in Janesville—The Beloit orchestra furnished the music for the dance Thursday night—Clayton Honeysett and Wilber Role were in Janesville Thursday night—Mrs. Little Parmlay has been suffering with rheumatism—Next week will be a week of prayer and meetings will be held at a number of private homes.

BURNHAMS SETTLED IN NEW HOME AT LONG BEACH, CAL.

MR. AND MRS. S. C. BURNHAM

Who Are Now Settled in Their California Home at Long Beach. Writing to the Gazette from California, S. C. Burnham, former secretary of the board of education of Janesville, a veteran of the civil war, and whose life was hanging in the balance for many months of the past year, sends greetings to his old friends and acquaintances in Janesville. Mr. Burnham sent a Kodak picture of the bungalow and himself and Mrs. Burnham at Long Beach, in which they reside. He says they are in the best of health.

LA FOLLETTE GIVEN SHARP REDUCE BY FARM BUREAU HEAD

A state Commerce commission against the valuation of the railroads upon which the advanced freight rates of August 26, 1920, were made.

"The American Farm Bureau federation in August, for many years, and whose life was hanging in the balance for many months of the past year, sends greetings to his old friends and acquaintances in Janesville. Mr. Burnham sent a Kodak picture of the bungalow and himself and Mrs. Burnham at Long Beach, in which they reside. He says they are in the best of health."

Two recent conferences. "Let me recall your attention to two conferences which have been held recently regarding transportation matters, together with some of the causes leading up to these conferences and the results of the conferences: Following the hearing before the Interstate Commerce commission in August on grain rate reductions, in which the American Farm Bureau federation appeared as complainant, I personally called upon a group of western railroad executives working in the interest not only of American agriculture but in the interest of the whole country, that rate reductions be speedily made. I leave you to judge whether or not this work has been done."

Later the secretary of the National Manufacturers' Association, James A. Emery, without suggestion or knowledge on the part of the American Farm Bureau federation, issued a call for a conference in New York city on Sept. 21. I do not know who selected those who were invited to this conference. The list included three representatives of the Grange and three representatives of the American Farm Bureau federation. Master S. J. Lowell of the National Grange was made chairman of the meeting.

Names Smaller Group.

"After considerable open discussion the conference appointed a smaller group to bring in definite recommendations. This group consisted of three railroad executives and agricultural implement manufacturers, the secretary of the National Manufacturers' Association and myself. I stated to the railroad executives that lower rates were an immediate necessity, and that we would rather get them through voluntary adjustment than through forced legislation or long and extended hearings. I told them that the least that would satisfy the American farmer would be an immediate reduction on basic commodities, including agricultural products, coal and building materials, corresponding to the labor reductions of July 1, together with a definite pledge that further reduction rates should be made as fast as operating costs decreased until the advance of Aug. 26, 1920, was eliminated.

Show Rail Problems.

"The railroads stressed the necessity of taking care of dependent stock and bondholders and the dangers of their going into bankruptcy. My reply to them was that we had heard for years of their onerous rates and we sympathized with them, but not more than with the farmers. "I regret that you were misinformed regarding this meeting. It is unfortunate both for you as well as agricultural interests that statements indicating secrecy and collusion should have been made by you. "I trust the day may come when business men or representatives of any group of interest may openly confer with farmers without hints of suspicion, and that statements may be guided by equal openness and frankness."

"Yours most sincerely, "J. R. Howard, President."

He never was further from shore than the deck of ship tied to the wharf. That was in May, 1918. He was in the last semester at the time at the University of Wisconsin law school.

Upon enlistment, Gross was sent to the Great Lakes naval training station. He was there until January, 1919, when he was released from active duty. He was recently notified of his discharge in September. While at the lakes, he was advanced to petty officer and assistant company commander. When his company was sent to sea, he was held back for training service. He was later to go into the officers' material school in December, 1918, but the signing of the armistice halted that fortune.

Coming out of the service, Gross returned to Madison and graduated from the law school of the university in 1919.

He was born on a farm near La Farge, Wis., in 1888. After completing high school there, he graduated from Beloit college in 1912. Then for three years he taught history, civics and debating. He entered the University of Chicago law school in 1915 and after a year transferred to Wisconsin.

At high school, Gross played on the baseball team. He was on the Beloit college track team. While at the Gateway city, he won the track championship. He is a member of the Phi Alpha Delta, and the honorary Delta Sigma Rho.

recruiting office in Milwaukee had been transferred, he immediately went over to the naval station and applied for sea service. But he was again destined for disappointment.

orphans and widows of farmers who had been left destitute because of a bad economic condition which high freight rates had helped create. I further told them that many farmers and business men were compelled to go through bankruptcy, and that it was no worse for a railroad to go into bankruptcy than it was for a farmer or a manufacturer. I added that I believed it would be a good thing for the public if some of the railroad companies did go into receivership in order that the value of their property might be determined by the public.

Submit Farm Proposal.

"After a discussion, the three executives agreed to submit the farmers' proposal for immediate rate reductions, and subsequent reductions as well to the executive committee of the railroad executives. They did at the meeting on Oct. 6. We were informed that this executive committee approved the proposition with a 10 per cent reduction, effective immediately and subsequent reductions as requested. The matter, however, was referred to a general meeting of railroad executives in Chicago on Oct. 14. That meeting did not take place for many years, but it pledged further reductions as operating expenses decreased.

Following day I met a small group of railroad executives and pressed group disappointment that they had refused immediate reductions, stating that we would be compelled to make immediate application for same through the Interstate Commerce commission. The American Farm Bureau federation that very day did file a petition for immediate reduction of rates 10 to 20 per cent, with subsequent reductions as operating expenses were reduced.

Reduction Recommended.

"Other interviews during the next two or three weeks were held between the American Farm Bureau federation and the railroad executives, with the result that the railroad executives voluntarily requested the Interstate Commerce commission to approve a 10 per cent reduction on agricultural commodities, effective Jan. 1, 1922, for a period of six months."

"The reduction was not as much as we should have liked and would not have satisfied us had it not been for the promise of future reductions. The railroad executives treated us with fairness and frankness. A full and free conference and the results was given to the press by the American Farm Bureau federation several weeks ago and was widely printed."

"A second conference was called by the same agency that called the first one in Washington on December 3. I asked that a larger group of our representatives might attend the second conference. This request was granted, and in addition to the Farm Bureau and the Grange, the International Farm Congress was represented."

Accede to Demand.

"The principal discussion at this second conference had to do with the so-called Copper bill, providing for the repeal of section 15 of the transportation act and defining the powers of the various state commissions. Every interest, except the farmers, expressed themselves as being opposition to this bill. Without discussing the details of the conference, which was entirely informal, but as I understand it, open to anybody who has a right to be in it, the farmers' demand for the repeal of the existing clauses of 15-A was in substance acceded to, as was our contention as to maintaining integrity of the state railroads. The conference was not sufficiently familiar with this bill and other bills to commit ourselves regarding any phraseology, which was referred to a committee consisting of J. R. Howard, of T. C. Atkinson, representing the Grange, Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau federation, and James A. Emery, secretary of the National Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Silver was instructed by me as president of the American Farm Bureau federation to consult with the properly constituted authority of the state railroad commission in the formulation of any suggested changes in the bill. I am informed that Mr. Silver has done so, although no report of the committee has been submitted as yet to the American Farm Bureau federation office in Chicago."

Carls All on Table.

"Other matters were briefly discussed, particularly wages and the state of the railroad labor board, but no attempt was made to reach any agreement. The cards were all on the table at all times."

"I regret that you were misinformed regarding this meeting. It is unfortunate both for you as well as agricultural interests that statements indicating secrecy and collusion should have been made by you. "I trust the day may come when business men or representatives of any group of interest may openly confer with farmers without hints of suspicion, and that statements may be guided by equal openness and frankness."

"Yours most sincerely, "J. R. Howard, President."

Chicago.—Cattlemen of the country stand on the threshold of an era of prosperity and the man who has cash will soon be in a strong strategic position, according to President S. B. Stafford of the Chicago Livestock Exchange, who issued his annual statement yesterday.

The cattlemen had a settlement Saturday, according to President Stafford, when he had to step up and take his losses in the readjustment, but now he is approaching a time when he can write his results in black ink instead of red.

As an indication of approaching good times, he stated that cows suitable for breeding purposes have increased in value in the western states from $10 to $20 a head in the last 60 days.

"Man Killed in Sicily"

Beloit.—According to reports received here, James Di Lorenzo, proprietor for eight years of a store here, who figured prominently in the murder trial of the slayer of Thomas Cordio, in Rock county circuit court two years ago, has been killed. Fearful death at the hands of an unknown assassin, which had been threatened him in black hand letters, killing his part in the murder trial, Di Lorenzo fled with his family to Sicily about 18 months ago. Detective Dan Torrisi has called to Di Lorenzo's family in Sicily to learn the truth of the report. A fund to send an investigation to Sicily is being raised by friends in Beloit.

Other matters were briefly discussed, particularly wages and the state of the railroad labor board, but no attempt was made to reach any agreement. The cards were all on the table at all times.

"I regret that you were misinformed regarding this meeting. It is unfortunate both for you as well as agricultural interests that statements indicating secrecy and collusion should have been made by you.

He never was further from shore than the deck of ship tied to the wharf. That was in May, 1918. He was in the last semester at the time at the University of Wisconsin law school.

Upon enlistment, Gross was sent to the Great Lakes naval training station. He was there until January, 1919, when he was released from active duty. He was recently notified of his discharge in September. While at the lakes, he was advanced to petty officer and assistant company commander. When his company was sent to sea, he was held back for training service. He was later to go into the officers' material school in December, 1918, but the signing of the armistice halted that fortune.

Coming out of the service, Gross returned to Madison and graduated from the law school of the university in 1919.

He was born on a farm near La Farge, Wis., in 1888. After completing high school there, he graduated from Beloit college in 1912. Then for three years he taught history, civics and debating. He entered the University of Chicago law school in 1915 and after a year transferred to Wisconsin.

At high school, Gross played on the baseball team. He was on the Beloit college track team. While at the Gateway city, he won the track championship. He is a member of the Phi Alpha Delta, and the honorary Delta Sigma Rho.

Gross' hobby is drawing at which he is so proficient that he has been urged to make it his profession.

YOU TELL 'EM

Reporters ask a daily question of five persons. Here's what they say:

TODAY'S QUESTION: What good resolutions are you making for 1922?

Mr. J. H. Young, jeweler, West Main street—None. The only resolution I make is to make it a rule to keep my mind strictly on the work that's ahead of me.

Edward Hennings, 201 South Jackson street—None. I don't break them. I'm not going to make any more.

G. S. Wright, Putnam hardware store—I'm not going to make any New Year's resolutions. If a man keeps on living the right kind of a life through the year, I don't see why he should make any resolutions.

Miss Dorothy Duffy, 417 North Second street—I never make any resolutions. If I did I'd only break them. I'll stick to the old.

Miss Louise Smith, Oak Park 7—None at all, for I'd be sure to break them before New Year's day is over.

4 COASTING HILLS ARE PROVIDED

Police Protection to Be Given Throughout Next Week.

Four hills in various parts of the city will be set aside for coasting places for children with special police protection all next week, the balance of Christmas school vacation, as a result of action taken by the board of health.

A special meeting in the office of City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham, Friday, The policemen, aided by older children, will act as guards to stop traffic when coasters are coming down the hills.

Following are the four hills set aside:

Racine street, First ward.

Fourth street, Second ward.

South bluff street, Sixth ward.

South bluff street, Seventh ward.

The committee fixed the time of 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. as coasting hours when a policeman will be stationed on each hill. Signs will be posted to warn traffic. Motorists are asked to cooperate by slowing down and being especially careful when crossing any of the three streets. Children are advised that these are the only official coasting places, and that coasting on any other hills will not be tolerated. They also may coast only during the specified hours.

The action was taken following a request from Mrs. D. W. Holmes, representing the Parent-Teachers' associations. The schedule will be in effect beginning Saturday and continuing until schools reopen, Jan. 2.

The committee discussed the proposed anti-motor bus ordinance and fixed 2 p. m. next Monday as the time for a public hearing on the measure. The hearing will be held in the council chambers.

NEWS OF STAGE AND SCREEN

Mary Is Coming

MARY ANDERSON

Mary Anderson, the popular little motion picture star, is coming to Janesville Monday morning, January 9, as the guest of the Gazette and will have a three day program filled with visits and talks.

Mary is a picture star and has appeared in a number of the best sellers on the screen.

She comes to Janesville just to make a visit and see what a real genuine American town looks like.

She writes the Gazette that she wants to be busy here every minute and has laid out a program that will keep her moving from the time she arrives until Wednesday night, the 11th, when she will depart.

Mary is the first movie star to visit Janesville. She will want to see her and meet her. Look for the announcements of her coming and what she will do.

Mary was born and educated in Brooklyn, New York. She is a real American girl, as all of her grand parents were born in the United States. Back of that they were Scotch-Irish, with one French great grandparent.

Her early dramatic experience she gained as a Stock Player at the Vitaphone Studio in Brooklyn. She played ingenue roles with John Bunny, Sidney Drew, Clara Kimball Young and Edith Storey. Later she played leads with William Duncan and Antonio Moreno at Vitaphone. Then she started to free lance and made "Playthings", "Unseen", "Rushed", "Four", "Johnny Get Your Gun", "Lucky", "False Faces", "Inc.", "Bubbles", "Pioneer", "The Half Breed", "Morocco" and "Two Minutes to Go" with Charles Ray. The last two pictures are Associated First National releases.

Miss Anderson has just finished "Too Much Money" and "Blueboard" for Associated Photo-Plays Inc. and is making a tour of the United States before starting her next photograph, which she hopes will be just what the boys want and she is confident that they will out the best.

She is fond of all outdoor sports and frankly admits that she has freckles.

At the Theatres

AT THE APOLLO. Charles Ray in "Nineteen and Phyllis" will be the attraction at the Apollo theater next week, opening a three-day engagement on Monday. It is the third release since becoming an independent, and is said to be up to his other productions. "Nineteen and Phyllis" from Broadway, "Peaceful Valley" and "The Old Swimmer" Role.

Ray again departs from the "tub" characters that made him famous and is seen in this production as a young town dandy, wearing the best mail-order clothes. The picture is a comedy of youth and Ray's exceptional acting of this type makes it a fun film.

With this feature will be shown Ben Turpin in "Love's Outcast," a Mack Sennett comedy. Turpin, with his cross-eyes, is one of the leading comedians at present and is supported by an all-star cast in this production. "Love's Outcast" will make up the week-end bill, with a special feature picture to be shown Thursday and Friday.

AT THE MYERS. Three of the screen's most popular stars—Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson and Elliott Dorson—will appear in the picture, "Don't Tell Everything," at the Myers theater for four days, starting Monday. With pictures of this type and of such recent release, Janesville is keeping up well with the best and latest in motion pictures, early showings along with Milwaukee theaters.

Cullen Dale, Wallace Reid, wealthy and loving, loves Marion Westover, (Gloria Swanson). Harvey Westover, (Elliott Dorson), Dale's best friend, loves her too, but loves to Dale, doesn't let her know. In a polo game, where Dale and Gloria are captives, their horses crash together and all go down in a heap, the friendship of the two men is exhibited in their mutual solicitude.

Milton Village Taxes Boosted

Milton.—Higher state and county taxes and extra expenses in connection with the construction of Union high school, have necessitated increasing the rate for Milton village to $25.70 a thousand, as compared with the rate of $25.13 last year. The total net increase is $2,521.30.

The levy for Union high school is $2,902.63, an increase of $3,187.65 over that of last year. The county tax is increased by $1,358.41, and the state tax by $93.75. The tax roll for district No. 5 shows a decrease of $649.51, and the amount levied by the village board for village expenses is reduced by $1,000.

Probably everyone is familiar with the reason why the Union high school levy is so high, said W. P. Rogers, village clerk, in discussing changes on the tax roll. "The building and equipment cost much more than was expected. Consequently the amount provided by the state loan, and the sale of bonds was not enough, so that a large deficit was incurred in finishing and equipping the building. Part of this deficit had to be added to this year's budget, thus accounting for the increased taxes for the high school."

BISHOP RECOVERING FROM OPERATION

Bishop William Walter Webb of the Milwaukee diocese of the Episcopal church, of which Trinity parish is a part, is recovering from a major operation performed a week ago, according to word brought back by his wife, Mrs. Webb, who is here recovering sufficiently in time to make his annual visit to Trinity church here for confirmation in February or March.

A Column for Card Players and Question Box—Conducted by Hoyle, Jr.

Address questions about any game to Hoyle, Jr., the Janesville Gazette. Questions will be mailed promptly. No questions answered unless signed with name and address.

Auction Bridge—No. 7

"Know the leads and when to make them. Know the tricks and when to take them. Know the rules and when to break them. Know the laws and never forsake them."

Ace is high and deuce low in the play of the card. You must follow suit, but holding no card of the suit led you may either trump or discard.

A no-trump declaration makes each card worth its face value, and the highest card of the suit led wins the trick.

There are two scores to be played for, trick and honor. Penalties and bonuses in addition.

The trick score is credited to the side that wins more than six tricks. The honor score to the side that holds the majority of the honors.

Each card of the suit led is to score more points than your adversaries, tricks and honors combined, by taking as many tricks as possible.

This is done by winning the Rubber. There are three ways in which tricks are taken:

1. By high cards, that is, by playing the highest card of the suit led.

2. By "ruffing" or "trumping"—that is, by playing a trump on a main suit, when no card of the suit led is held in the hand.

3. By "establishing" and "bringing in" a long suit. A suit is "established" when the highest unplayed cards of that suit are held in the hand, and these cards will take all the remaining unplayed cards of that suit.

A suit is "brought in" by taking a trick with each remaining card held of that suit, (the adversaries' trumps having been exhausted).

A suit cannot be "brought in" unless it has been "established," but a suit is frequently "established" which is not "brought in." To bring in an established suit, the holder of it must have the lead, and the trumps against him must be exhausted.

As soon as the player to the left of the declarant has led, the next play, if the left, the declarant's partner, shall place his cards up on the table.

Monday Big Day in Sportdom--Locally and Nationally

INTEREST CENTERS ON COAST FOOTBALL MILWAUKEE FIGHTS

New Year's holiday, Monday, will be featured by a number of events in the sporting world, both locally and nationally.

With the Benny Leonard-Pinkie Mitchell scrap at Milwaukee in the afternoon attracting the eyes of all pugilistic fans, the intercollegiate football contest at Pasadena between California and Wisconsin, and a score of lesser events, it looks like a big day for sportdom, nationally. Janesville is taking a great interest in both affairs, a number planning to see the bouts at Milwaukee.

Interest of football fans is also centered on the struggle between Centre college and the Texas A. and M. elevens at Dallas.

In Janesville, basketball will be a feature of the holiday activities, with the R. F. B. Fords bumping up against the Madison Cardinals in the Coliseum. The game is to start at 8:30. There will be skating, skiing and coasting for those who love the good old outdoor winter sports. Bowling will also be a popular part of the day's activities.

The Y. M. C. A.'s annual "open house" is expected to draw a large number of people, Monday. The day will include a volleyball match between the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs at 10 a. m. and will mark the opening of chess and checker tournaments, these being scheduled for 3 p. m. At night, basketball contests and gymnastic exhibitions are booked, due to start at 7:30 p. m. There will be wrestling, racing, parallel bar work, drills, etc.

Several new men have been added to the team, including Leo Lanphere, one of the best forwards in the college over had, and Bob Davis, former Great Lakes star, a guard. Victor Hemminger will play the game.

The following line-ups are announced:

Manogue.....Rice
Substitutes—R. F. B.'s (Capt.) Hager, Tunstead, Bond, Bangs, Powers, Dean, Madison, A. C. Bailey.

The R. F. B.'s announce that Woodstock will be brought here, Jan. 9. They also say they have booked the Red Cross, the Slicker, Collegians and McCabe's Marvells from Harvard, these games being dependent upon a good-sized crowd for Monday night.

The all-time basketball game of the season is booked for next Wednesday night at the Coliseum rink between the Lakota Cardinals and the Milwaukee Bright Spots, star basketball club. The game promises to be the fastest scrap put on here in a long, long time. The Bright Spots have been cleaning house with every team they have met this year. Mike Knapp, old Lakota star, is one of the mainstays of the Milwaukee quintet.

Much interest has been aroused following the announcement of the game by Manager Joseph Donning of the Cardinals. Indications point to the biggest crowd of the year when the two teams take the floor at 8:30 p. m., Wednesday. The management announces there will be no reserved seats for this game.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Leonard Stock Jumps as Benny Shows Speed, Class

Milwaukee.—Benny Leonard, gave an eyelet Friday.

Pinkie Mitchell stock took a big jump after the champion had boxed six rounds before 100 favored fans. Leonard is in as good condition as it is possible for an athlete to be. From his present appearance, it is hard to believe that there were those who doubted that he could make 135 pounds.

Leonard boxed six rounds, two each with Midget Smith, Bob Miller and Eddie Merrie. Smith is supposed to be a first class bantamweight, but Leonard had him looking like a monkey when he missed. Leonard did the greater part of his work with his left hand, keeping his right under cover. The Mitchell camp is reticent concerning its plans.

More Men Wanted

To Take Up Practical Electricity—225 Men Placed In Well-Paid Positions in Past Ninety Days—We Teach You in Six Months

It is a well known fact that several million people are out of employment and yet there is a steady demand for men with a practical electrical training. This is proven by the fact that 225 graduates of the School of Practical Electricity have secured jobs with our help in the last three months.

Hundreds of men today are glad to get any kind of work at the wages of a common laborer and yet these same men could multiply their earning power by taking a short course in Practical Electricity which would qualify them to take jobs in public service stations, manufacturing plants, in wiring and testing generators, in winding armatures and testing transformers. This is work which calls for a specialized knowledge and cannot be gained in any other way than study and practical experience.

Now Is the Time

Babson, the statistical expert, predicts that the electrical business will have the biggest boom of any line of industry during the next two years. Electricity with its future possibilities is just in its infancy. There was never a greater opportunity for men to get into permanent paying work than by taking this short course in practical electricity.

How You Can Qualify

Men and boys with only a common school education can qualify. We put you right in the thick of the work right in our school in Milwaukee where you are given a practical six months' course in wiring and testing direct current and alternating current motors, winding armatures, in studying transformers and all other branches of the electrical business. You don't study from books nor by a long-distance correspondence course but right where the work is being done, doing it yourself and rubbing shoulders with men from all parts of the country, getting personal training from instructors with wide experience and national reputation.

At the end of six months you can call yourself a practical electrical trained man and be one. You can hold down any job which calls for a practical knowledge of wiring and testing armature winding, motor testing and maintenance or hold a position as foreman or superintendent.

Act Immediately

First of all send for our 40-page illustrated catalog which will be sent FREE upon request. If you want to start with a class which begins January 5th, come visit the school as soon as you finish reading this announcement. We will get you in the thick of the work the very day you enroll.

Ice In The Gasoline Line

Don't Let Water Accumulate In The Tanks

WHEN THE ENGINE OF A CAR THAT is kept in an unheated garage or has been left standing outside for a long time fails to start or starts, runs for a minute or two and then stops and will not start again, the reason quite often is that water, accidentally present in the fuel system, has frozen and stopped the flow of gasoline to the carburetor. The place where ice is most likely to form is at the carburetor float chamber, where the gasoline supply pipe enters and where there frequently is a filter screen. Freezing here may not only cut off the supply of gasoline, but may prevent the float from rising, by freezing the float stem in its guide. If there is a "dip" or low point in the carburetor supply pipe, ice may also form there. If the carburetor bowl drain is opened and a piece of wire cannot be run up fully into the bowl, it is likely that there is ice present, which can be thawed by the use of hot water. Where possible, the carburetor bowl should be immersed in warm water contained in a small, fully filled dish, but merely pouring the water over the frozen part will serve. Obviously, this exasperating trouble can be prevented by keeping water out of the system, and this is readily accomplished. If all gasoline is filtered through chamols, no water will be taken in, but this is hardly practicable. In gravity feed systems there is usually a sediment and water chamber at the tank or elsewhere in the feed line and, if this is emptied frequently there will be no trouble, but if it is allowed to overflow with water some of this may reach the carburetor. In vacuum systems, there is the main tank drain and the drain at the bottom of the vacuum tank, and if liquid is frequently drawn from both of these, until only clean gasoline comes, there is no danger of water reaching the carburetor. Piping for the draft pipes from both the main and vacuum tanks are so arranged that considerable water may collect without entering them. The occasional drawing off of liquid from the drain in the carburetor float chamber will still only clean gasoline comes, should always be practiced. The freezing of water in a "dip" in the main tank draft pipe or in the carburetor pipe may split the copper tubing and sediment bulbs and carburetor pipe connections are occasionally burst in this way, making it advisable to drain the fuel system of a car that is laid up for the winter in a cold place.

"HITS" ON TWO CYLINDERS ONLY

J. J. G. writes: I have a four-cylinder engine, equipped with battery ignition, which will run on cylinders 1 and 4 but will not fire cylinders 2 and 3, although there is a spark at all plugs. Can you explain this?

Answer: In order to eliminate the possibility of faulty plugs, try putting those now in cylinders 1 and 4 into cylinders 2 and 3 and vice versa, and see if this makes 2 and 3 fire. It may be that the plug cables coming from the number 2 and 3 distributor points go to the wrong plugs and should be reversed. Set the engine on full compression of number 2 cylinder (with both its valves closed), and see if the distributor brush is on the segment connected with the cable leading to number 2 cylinder. If not, the two cables should be reversed. Try priming all four cylinders and then run the engine. If all cylinders fire, it shows that the ignition is all right, but that the middle cylinders fail to receive proper charges, possibly because of bad leakages of air into them.

RUSTED-IN BRAKE ANCHOR PIN

P. L. writes: The screw pin is stuck so tightly in the anchor support of one of my foot brakes, that I cannot move it and thus cannot detach the band, which needs re-lining. I have used a screwdriver on this pin as forcibly as I dare to, but cannot budge it. What can you suggest?

Answer: The anchor pin gives considerable trouble, as it is very subject to rusting and is disturbed but rarely. It is so frail that care must be taken to avoid twisting it off. We suggest that you soak it thoroughly with a good rust removing preparation and, if this will not loosen it so that it can be turned, that you take the car to a welding shop and have the oxy-acetylene flame applied to it, to heat it so as to cause it to expand and break the rust which prevents its being screwed out.

Questions of general interest to the motorist will be answered by Mr. Clough in this column, space permitting. If an immediate answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

"George Wants Borrow Our"

"Geo wants to borrow our car tonight," said a man who had just telephoned that he was repairing George's car till tomorrow, and they are invited out to dinner and no car."

"What—again? This is the third time. That's what comes of his trying to save a hundred when he bought the car. He's since as much already to keep it running."

So it goes. The man who doesn't like to buy seldom drives a good bargain.

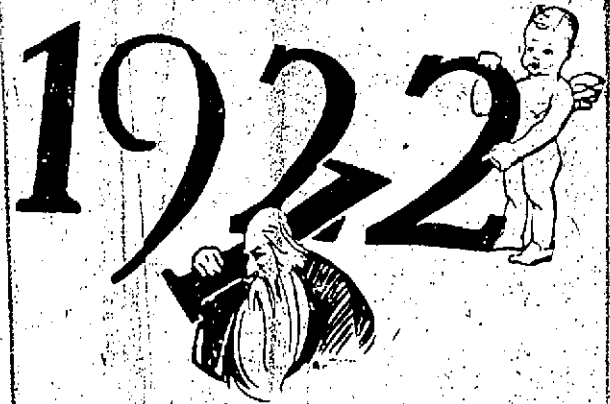

A car isn't just a car—it's engine, axles, clutch, transmission, bearings—and a lot of other things. If they aren't built to give service, have to pay to get service.

"The IGNITION CIRCUIT"

AN IGNITION CIRCUIT is carefully balanced in its design so that all of its parts work together—much like the sensitive movements of a watch. If one of these parts is changed from original specifications, it may throw the entire circuit out of balance.

Manufacturers have spent years in designing and building apparatus whose units possess this balance. Obviously, then, only standard parts and expert service should be employed to maintain the efficiency of the various units of the entire system.

WE USE ONLY STANDARD PARTS AND HAVE A THOROUGH KNOWLEDGE OF YOUR ELECTRICAL SYSTEM.

New Light on Batteries

"Since all batteries look so much alike on the outside how am I going to tell which one is the most valuable inside?"

That is a practical every-day question—and it has a simple every-day answer.

What greater service could you possibly have than the following combination of facts:

- 1—Extraordinary life in the battery itself, as shown by the Thru-the-Battery Test.
- 2—A nationwide reputation for service and reliability.
- 3—A record for safety and service during the most trying conditions of the automobile.

You don't need a formal invitation. Come in any old day and get some new light on this battery question.
